

I am strongly opposed to further media consolidation. For a country to remain free and democratic, it is essential that there be multiple news sources independently controlled.